

The FCC will look like criminals and continue the harrassment of individuals if it alters the no-call action we've got available in Indiana. Phone solicitation should be illegal. Eventually, people will get rid of landline phones altogether and then phone companies will go bankrupt.